Was an artificial liner used?  Yes  No

If no, how were the sides and bottom sealed to prevent downward migration of the pit contents?

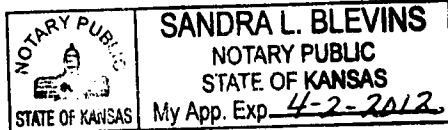

The natural clays of the Clime-Sogn soil complex are nearly impermeable to liquids. There is no visual evidence of any seepage through the sides and bottom of each pit during the 14 months (June 2008 to August 2009) that each was open.

Abandonment procedure of pit: On 12 August 2009, a vacuum-tank truck emptied each pit of all liquid contents. The remaining contents of each pit consisted of drill cuttings, minor amounts of trash from the drilling/completion operations, and puttylike semi-solid fresh-water drilling mud. On 14 August 2009, each pit was filled back in with the material (shale, limey shale, and shaly limestone) that had been excavated during their construction in June 2008.

The undersigned hereby certifies that he/she is ~~xxx~~ Geologist and Co-Manager for Jackson Brothers, L.L.C. (Co.), a duly authorized agent, that all information shown hereon is true and correct to the best of his/her knowledge and belief.
