Dear Mr. Williams:

In accordance with your request for information leading to the naming convention of the referenced wells, I have researched our well files and determined that the attached forms ACO-1 and ACO-2 duly reflect the proper nomenclature which is in agreement with the API numbers issued to the Intentions to Drill.

As indicated in our telephone conversation, each of these wells has undergone three name changes due to different reclassifications based on oil and gas production. The chronology in which the wells were drilled also compounded the problem. Therefore, we suggest that the interim reports that are presently on your files be disregarded and final determination of the well names be based on these two records.

Please advise if additional information is required.

Sincerely yours,
